EYR - Plumpton Land Rover Pull Challenge

Plumpton College students held a Land Rover pull challenge with a difference! Local organisations involved with the event included Eastbourne Youth Radio, Sussex Downs College, Eastbourne Education Business Partnership and Caffyns. Staff from the Adventure Education (Sport) Department at the College organised this exciting event, also supported by student teams from the Forestry, Agriculture and Machinery departments.

The enthusiastic students competed in teams against the clock to see who could pull the Land Rover over twenty meters across the college front field.

Dave Rafferty, Lecturer for the Degree programme in Outdoor Adventurous Activities at Plumpton College said, "We are very grateful to all the schools and colleges in East Sussex who are involved in the challenge as well as organisations and sponsors for help with this interesting and fun student activity.

The Land Rover was generously supplied by local dealership Caffyns of Lewes and proved a generous offer from their fantastic range of Range Rover and Land Rover vehicles."

The winners will be announced live during Plumpton College's show, broadcast on 20th November at 2pm, on 87.7fm.
